

BARGAIN SALE HELD BY P. O. DEPARTMENT

Dead Letter Office Auctions
Off Goods Not Delivered
Nor Returned

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 16.—The annual sale of articles which were sent through the mail but could not be delivered because neither the address of the sender nor that of the addressee could be ascertained, began here today at C. G. Sloan & Co.'s auction rooms under the auspices of the Dead Letter Office. There were in all 5,566 articles divided into lots, for the saving of time at the auction. The list of the articles which was issued a few days ago, gives the contents of every lot and judging from the great combination of many of the lots the selection must have been made by a humorist in the department. The list includes every imaginable kind of articles, books, neckties, sofa cushions, millinery, gloves, hundreds of pieces of cheap jewelry and a number of rings, bracelets, brooches, etc., of considerable value. Among the articles even a fine diamond, weighing 3.35 carats, which will be auctioned separately. The attendance at the opening sale was large and the bidding spirited. It is expected that the sale will consume several days.

Every one of the articles listed at this auction reached the Dead Letter office through the carelessness of the sender. In most cases the articles had been carelessly packed and during the Christmas rush of last year, had worked through the wrapping or fatten out of crushed boxes so that it was impossible to determine by whom they had been sent and to whom they were addressed.

In view of the fact that the new parcels post law will become effective on January 1, 1913, Postmaster General Hitchcock has issued a warning to all persons who wish to send articles of value through the parcels post. The wrapping should be done securely and carefully and every package must bear the required postage in the new parcels post stamps which will be on sale at all the postoffices by January 1. No package will be forwarded in the mail under the new law unless the parcel is accompanied by the return card of the sender. The weight limit under the new law will be eleven pounds against the former limit of four pounds for fourth class matter.

ACTION UNLIKELY ON TAFT APPOINTMENTS

Indications Are That All Will Go Over Until After the Christmas Recess

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Action on President Taft's appointments is not likely to be taken in the senate before the Christmas recess. Attempt to secure the confirmation of Edward E. Clarke of Iowa for another term as member of the Interstate Commerce commission was begun in the senate today but friends of the commissioner are not confident they can secure action before recess.

PACKEY MAULS RIVAL.

KENOSHA, Wis., Dec. 16.—Packey McFarland, of Chicago, earned a decisive victory over Eddie Murphy, of Boston, in a ten round fight here tonight. Murphy lost two teeth, and was knocked down in the last round. His right eye was cut open and he finished the fight a sorry spectacle, although apparently still strong and willing.

Packey was never in danger and rained blows on his antagonist, but lacked the knock-out punch.

TEA PARTY ANNIVERSARY.
BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 16.—The one hundred and thirty-ninth anniversary of the Boston "Tea Party," one of the stirring events that preceded the outbreak of the American Revolution, was observed in this city today with meetings and exercises under the auspices of various patriotic and historical societies.

"How do you make such delicious muffins? Mine are always so dry. And if I make the batter thin they fall."

"I make them about as you do, only I use K.C. Baking Powder. Mine always turn out well, so it must be the baking powder."

KG BAKING POWDER

is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which starts to raise as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. This sustains the raise until your muffins, biscuits or cake is done.

K.C. Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN FUND WHEN AND HOW SECURED

As there are many democrats in last election, the following from the amounts to the party success in the Arizona who contributed in varying Washington Post analyzing the national fund and the sources from which it was received will be interesting to Review readers.

It cost the democratic party slightly over $1,000,000 to elect Woodrow Wilson president of the United States. This expense was borne by 91,000 persons, who contributed in varying amounts to the popular campaign fund.

These two remarkable facts will be shown in a statement soon to be issued by the clerk of the house of representatives by Rolla Wells, of St. Louis, trustee. The law allows 30 days after the election for campaign committees and candidates to file statements of their receipts and expenditures. The democrats will not use all that time for Treasurer Wells, now on his way to St. Louis from New York, stated that the books were practically balanced. A surplus, in favor of the committee has developed, and this is another strange thing in connection with the work of campaign committees.

Although no accurate public record has ever been kept before, men who have led in the work of political parties state that there has been no successful campaign in recent years that cost so little as the one just concluded by the democrats. Likewise, and this fact also remains undisputed, the expense of no campaign for the presidency has ever been participated in by so many contributors.

The idea of a popular campaign fund was first put into operation four years ago in Mr. Bryan's contest. Then it is estimated, something like 35,000 individuals contributed. Up to that time it had been the custom for a comparatively small number of patriotic party men to finance the campaigns of both parties. Perhaps before 1908 never had as many as 1,000 persons donated to pay the expenses of a presidential aspirant.

The bulk of the Wilson fund, the records of the committee show, was received in contributions of from $1 to $10. The largest single subscription was that of Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, who gave $10,000. Cleveland R. Dodge, of New York, gave $25,000. Only a few contributions of more than $10,000 were received. Less than 2,500 contributions went over the $100 mark.

New York led all the states in the aggregate amount subscribed, with $256,000. Illinois came second, with $124,000. Then in order came Pennsylvania and Texas.

The aggregate amount sent in by the District of Columbia democrats was $9,380.

The Wilson managers declare that not one penny of their fund was taken from a corporation, and that no money was taken from private parties. If an ulterior purpose in giving was suspected, this was in accordance with a stipulation by Governor Wilson himself, made at Seagirt during the first meeting there of his campaign managers. The governor asked:

"FRAME-UP" IS DEFENSE.
Eddie Villi Claim He Is Being Jobbed by Higher-Ups.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—That a defense of "political frame-up" will be offered on behalf of Guy Eddie, the suspended city prosecutor, who is charged with contributing to the dependency of Mrs. Alice Phelps, a minor, was indicated today in the examination of jurors by Eddie's attorneys.

Five permanent jurors were obtained today and it is believed the prosecution will begin the presentation of evidence sometime tomorrow.

TRIAL FOR MURDER.
HILLSBORO, Texas, Dec. 16.—The case of R. J. Menefee, accused of murder in connection with the killing of Frank Glasgow, a police officer of this city, who was fatally shot one night in June, 1911, came up for trial today. This will be the second trial of the case. The first trial Dr. Menefee was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment, but the verdict was reversed by the higher court and a new trial ordered.
